Trade Directories

ESTAD RD'S DIRECTORY IITLEY BAY, TYNEMOUTH, RTH AND SOUTH SHIELDS, JARROW, WALLSEND, GOSFORTH, NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, AND ADJACENT VILLAGES; TOWN AND COUNTY GUIDE, CALENDAR,

Commercial publishers selling to an identified market produced trade directories. The older directories were sold primarily to the gentry and leisured classes. From 1850s onwards the directories were designed for a more commercial market. Nineteenth century directories are arranged alphabetically by Church of England parish with an alphabetical list of townships usually at the beginning.

Each entry has a brief historical description of a village/town, followed by a contemporary description, then a list of private inhabitants and local trades-people. They therefore contain the following information: topographical details (including mineral deposits), history and a description of a village/town, population figures, and details of transport (eg. Stage Coach, Carrier, Railway), names of public buildings (eg. Inns, Schools), and names of local officials and businesses.

This leaflet contains a list of trade directories available at the Local Studies Centre, North Shields Library. The directories are listed below in chronological order.
